	My best friend is angry with me. He said that I was selfish because I didn't let him copy my homework. Now he doesn't want to speak to me any more.	You should speak to the team coach about their comments. You probably just need more practice.

	I feel really bad today. The other players in my football team say that I'm lazy and fat. They say I should run faster. They make me feel I'm a bad player.	You should speak to your mum and say you are sorry. You were rude to her. She is just worried about you. You should try to understand her.

	I feel bad because I argued with my mum. She said that I can't go to a party with my friends. So I said, 'It's not fair! You're ruining my life!' She started to cry. Should I say sorry or just forget about it?	You should speak to him about the importance of honesty. Copying someone's homework is never OK. Don't worry, you did the right thing.

Don't worry. You're a generous friend. I think you should suggest you do your homework together.

Good Advice

- Talk to him/her and apologize
- Invite him/her to . . .
- Practise your football skills with your dad
- Suggest you do your homework together
- Be careful when posting photos online

According to a statistical report by DANE*, in recent years verbal abuse has ¹. ____ (increase) in many Colombian schools. More students have ². ____ (be) disrespectful to their parents, teachers and classmates. Over the past decade, many students have ³. ____ (become) aggressive, and have ⁴. ____ (find) it difficult to use polite language. They often use offensive language to establish status and power. Verbal abuse includes name-calling, insults and threats. These types of verbal abuse have ⁵. ____ (destroy) students' social relationships. Table 1 shows the results of a survey conducted by DANE with 5,000 students around the country. The students were asked if they have ⁶. ____ (use) verbal abuse in their school lives.

So how can students avoid verbal abuse? How can we stop them being offensive to their classmates? How can they become model citizens and use more positive, less abusive language? How can parents educate their children at home to reduce offensive language?

The graph shows the percentage (%) of students who admit using these types of verbal abuse.

Take a survey. Answer questions 1–8 for yourself. Then ask and answer the questions with a partner.

Are you a neighbour from heaven or a neighbour from hell?
Have you ever ...	Never	Once or twice	Many times
1. played loud music and disturbed your neighbours?
2. done something helpful for your neighbours?
3. left rubbish near your neighbours' door?
4. said 'good morning' or 'good afternoon' to your neighbours?
5. used bad language with your neighbours?
6. been told how to be a good neighbour?
7. helped to keep the neighbourhood clean and neat?
8. broken a neighbour's window?

Los estudiantes harán el cuadro y responderán las preguntas de acuerdo a las frecuencias de tiempo explicadas en clase.
